10:33:50 From Amy Cohen, PhD (APA) : "historic treasures" love it!

10:34:07 From Amy Cohen, PhD (APA) : Go Christy!!!

10:36:22 From Amy Cohen, PhD (APA) : whoa! I got it right, sadly.

10:36:36 From sharon.price : wow!

10:36:44 From Megan McDaniel (She/Her) : WOW! This hurts my heart :(

10:36:45 From sharon.price : very sad

10:36:47 From Babra Chakanyuka : This is very sadening

10:36:53 From Tansy McNulty : Terrifying

10:37:10 From Amy Cohen, PhD (APA) : I love Christy's optimism

10:37:11 From Karen Denise Jones : Thank you, Christy!

10:38:06 From jtecca : I work with Park County Sheriff as peer support specialist in Mobile Crisis Response

10:38:33 From Karen Denise Jones : Email karen.jones@riinternational if you'd be game to share your police ride along experience

10:38:41 From Denise Sulzbach (she, her) : What about ride alongs with mobile response teams?

10:38:45 From Tansy McNulty : Hi Jtecca, what city and state does your mobile crisis response operate in?

10:39:00 From Cosette | RAHEEM : I think it says alot that most under-estimated by 50%-- I wonder how we can have more exposure to these issues in the everyday lives of people in this field so we can be more aware of how bad things really are.

10:39:15 From jtecca : I work in Livingston Montana 25 miles from Bozeman

10:39:56 From Margie Balfour : When I started looking into our data, I found that the state and CMS restraint quality measures didn't require stratification by race, and therefore we didn't have it easily accessible for analysis. So if you're in a regulator or payer, you can have a lot of influence by requiring race/ethnicity stratification, because what's measured is what gets improved.

10:40:06 From Tansy McNulty : thank you Jtecca. And good point, Cosette.

10:40:10 From Suzanne Rabideau : @Cosette agree with your comments, I also wonder how our responses may have differed by POC vs nonPOC

10:47:24 From Jason Lerner : @monica: yes, there are many complexities involved that I had to glance over for this short overview! Beyond normalizing we use fuzzy matching for when the dat don't match 100%

10:47:48 From Jason Lerner : if folks have questions they want to follow up with me on you can reach me at jdlerner@uchicago.edu

10:57:21 From Margie Balfour : We just had an article come out in Psych Times about our youth crisis stabilization unit which we've been running since 2014. Lots of lessons learned. 10:59:47 From Rob Clark : Spot on Michelle!!!!

10:59:58 From Sarah Corcoran, GCS (she/her) : Quick federal update: The Senate Finance Committee released their Integration/Access to care draft bill late last week. It includes Medicare coverage for mobile crisis and crisis stabilization, as well as making the Medicaid enhancement for Mobile crisis permanent, and state guidance on Medicaid coverage of crisis services - which could potentially make it in an end of year package. Here is the press release:

11:00:31 From Suzanne Rabideau : Regarding children/family crisis response, we need to be extremely creative to blend having exceptional crisis practices with efficiency in systems (especially with workforce challenges and for rural/frontier communities).

11:00:36 From Wendy White Tiegreen (she/her/hers) - GA DBHDD : Great feedback Michelle!

11:00:40 From Margie Balfour : well said!!!!1

11:00:54 From Amy Cohen, PhD (APA) : happy to thanksgiving to all who celebrate

11:00:59 From Sonja Burns : Great presentations today!!

11:01:00 From Babra Chakanyuka : Thank you!!!

11:01:01 From Raul Botello : Thank you Michelle.

11:01:05 From LC3 Local Behavioral Health Collaborative : Thank you! Take care.
