10:15:01 From David Covington : Such a thoughtful debate and dynamic tension... terrific result with "safe place to be"

10:16:54 From Suzanne Rabideau : Love that the youth crisis continuum diagram states "self-defined crisis" -

10:17:12 From David Covington : Right, Suzanne?! Terrific - really transformative concept!

10:17:57 From Suzanne Rabideau : Some many have been saying that for years but finally it's in a federal document:-) Thank you SAMHSA!

10:18:25 From Anita Everett SAMHSA HHS : Thank you re self Defined Crisis. yes, we did not want to have to have a diagnosis or medical necessity be a barrier to accessing services.

10:21:28 From Suzanne Rabideau : Re role of peers.... can SAMHSA comment on the role of parent support partners in crisis care?

10:22:48 From kate dahlstrom-NAMI Grand Traverse : Are we talking about services for ALL kids or just Medicaid kids? Lots of kids from low to mid income families who need help without enough resources to pay for it.

10:23:43 From Brenda McFarlane (City of Fairbanks, AK) : Thank you for mentioning AI/NA youth.

10:24:22 From Rob Clark : Gen-z LGBTQ+ = 23% of youth. They rely on their peers more than parents, particularly those in this category. Caregiver model needs to be adjusted to empower their trusted peers. We need to really message 988 and programs as at the local level, these kids are largely unaware of the services that exist. I'm the parent of one who is also ASD, so I live it from the parent/caregiver side daily

10:24:37 From Liseanne Wick : Great point, @kate Dahlstrom! So often dialogues are skewed only in that direction

10:25:41 From Stephanie Barrios Hepburn : A symphony of chaos.

10:25:55 From Stephanie Barrios Hepburn : Great point.

10:27:59 From Julie Magers : Linking children and families to long term services is paramount to the model!!!

10:31:14 From Anita Everett SAMHSA HHS : Love the 2 week duration of services

10:33:46 From Karen Denise Jones : Thank you to all our presenters!

10:34:00 From Stephanie Barrios Hepburn : Dr. Balfour, when did you see the trend begin (8-12 yo)?

10:34:26 From Margie Balfour : @Stephanie - it's been a pretty steady increase

10:34:26 From Anita Everett SAMHSA HHS : to the person who asked earlier about peers, yes we are strongly in support of peers for youth and including family peers where they are available or could be built to provide support

10:35:01 From Margie Balfour : My email: margie.balfour@connections.shs.com
